【Important Notes】

- Please read General Application Guidelines carefully to determine your eligibility and be sure to prepare your application documents correctly.
- Pay special attention to “6. Eligibility.”
- Each program has different eligibility requirements, conditions (including language requirements), necessary documents, enrollment fees, scholarship amounts, etc. Please check the details stated in the Appendices and Attachments.
- In order to receive necessary information regarding academic issues while studying abroad, please visit the faculty/graduate school with which you will be affiliated during your study abroad period. Check the schedule for classes and exams during the semester before you submit the application to make sure that there are no conflicts. Ask the designated coordinator of your faculty/graduate school for his/her signature and/or seal on your application form.
- Note that Junior Division at College of Arts and Sciences will NOT grant any special treatment to those students who participate in a program which clashes with required classes and/or examinations. Such students will be marked as “absent.” Furthermore, absence due to participation in a program abroad is not considered a valid reason to apply for a makeup exam.
